Wahakura

The wahakura is a kaupapa Māori safe sleeping space. Place pēpi in the wahakura for every sleep. 'Waha' means to carry and 'kura' refers to the treasure that is your precious pēpi.

Taking care of your wahakura:

- Always place the wahakura on a flat surface when in use.
- Regularly air and expose your wahakura to sunlight (not direct sunlight).
- Keep the wahakura free of toys or pillows.
- Use a firm mattress (minimum of 2.0 - 2.5 cm thickness) ensuring there are no gaps between the mattress and sides of the wahakura.
- Cut and remove any harakeke fibres or threads that appear and return them to the whenua.
- If soiled, wash wahakura with a warm soapy cloth.
- Make sure the wahakura is wiped dry with a towel then left in the sun to completely dry before use.
